

General admission: diploma requirements 2019/2020

Would you like to establish whether, as an international student, your diploma is good enough to get you admitted into a bachelor's programme at Leiden University? To help you do so, the Admissions Office has drawn up a list of the most common foreign/international diplomas that meet the minimum admission requirements. Where applicable, minimum grades are listed.

Please note:

- The fact that a diploma is on the Admissions Office's list does not mean that it is considered comparable with a Dutch vwo diploma, nor that it will automatically guarantee you admission.
- A final decision will only be taken after you have submitted a complete online application for admission.
- For students who would like to apply for admission to the Liberal Arts and Sciences: Global Challenges programme at Leiden University College (LUC) in The Hague additional minimum requirements are listed.

International diplomas

• European Baccalaureate

When applying, please remember to indicate in which subjects you took your written and oral examinations.

LUC The Hague: An average score of 8.

• International Baccalaureate (IB)

- IB diploma ... the full IB Diploma programme is sufficient for general admission.
- IB certificates, however, are only taken into consideration in combination with national diplomas that grant admission to higher education.

When applying, please include your grade 11 results, your first semester grade 12 results (Progress Report November) and official predicted grades from your school and ensure that the levels of all subjects, including the language-related ones, are clearly indicated (HL, SL, A or B, etc.).

LUC The Hague: A total points of at least 30 points (excluding bonus).

Changes to IB mathematics curriculum 2019

Faculties of Science and Medicine

Some study programmes at the faculties of Science and Medicine have specific mathematics admissions requirements. Due to the curriculum change, the following IB mathematics requirements will apply from 2021 onwards:

- Programmes currently requiring Math HL: Analysis & Approaches HL will be required

- Programmes currently requiring Math SL: All math courses will be sufficient except Applications & Interpretation SL

All other faculties

The IB curriculum change will not affect admission requirements at other faculties. A full IB diploma, without specific math requirements, will remain sufficient. However, for the Faculty of Social Science, you are highly advised to take at least Analysis and Approaches SL or HL as a firm basis for your future studies.

• Cambridge International Examinations
