

Leiden Science China (LSC) Scholarship programme

Terms and Conditions: February and September 2018

1. Students enrolling in a two-year Leiden Master of Science programme (Faculty of Science) can apply for the LSC scholarship.
2. Only non-EU/EEA students can apply for the LSC scholarship. The LSC-scholarship covers 25% of the non-EU/EEA tuition fee.
3. All students who hold a relevant bachelor's degree from one of the following Chinese science partner universities will be selected for the LSC scholarship, when they also meet the other LSC scholarship requirements. If you have a relevant bachelor's degree from another Chinese university, you can still be selected for the LSC scholarship based on your individual performance and MSc application package.

City	Chinese science partner universities
Beijing	Beijing Foreign Studies University Beijing Institute of Technology Beijing Language and Culture University Peking University Tsinghua University
Chengdu	University of Electronic Science and Technology Sichuan University
Chongqing	Chongqing University
Hefei	University of Science and Technology of China
Nanjing	Nanjing University of Science and Technology Nanjing University
Shanghai	East China Normal University Fudan University Shanghai Jiao tong University
Wuhan	Wuhan University
Xi'an	Xidian University Xi'an Jiaotong University Northwestern Polytechnical University
Xiamen	Xiamen University

4. Only if an applicant is conditionally admitted or admitted into one of the Leiden Master of Science programmes, will a decision be made.
5. The student needs to obtain at least 50% of the curriculum in the first study year in order to retain the right to receive the LSC scholarship for the following academic year. The Faculty's selection committee will measure if the progress is satisfactory.
6. The LSC scholarship is only valid for the period the student is registered at Leiden University as a full time student within the time frame of the MSc programme. The maximum study period for a 2-year MSc programme is 24 months.
7. Continuation of the LSC scholarship is not guaranteed when a student changes his or her degree programme during the study programme. Requests will be reviewed case by case and the final decision will be taken by the Faculty's selection committee. In case the change is before the student has registered for the study programme, the LSC scholarship will be revoked and the student will have to re-apply for the scholarship.
8. The LSC scholarship is granted for the academic year as specified in the decision letter and cannot be transferred to another academic year or to a next intake within the same academic year. In case a student has been awarded a LSC for the September intake and decides to postpone his/her participation in the study programme, the LSC will be revoked. Requests will be reviewed case by case and the final decision will be taken by the Faculty's selection committee.
9. A student is allowed to submit several applications for scholarships at one time. However, it is not allowed to combine scholarships which are provided or sponsored by Leiden University like the Leiden University Excellence Scholarship Programme (LEXS), the Orange Tulip - China (OTS) and Astronomy tuition fee waivers. Thereby, it is not possible to combine the LSC scholarship with scholarships which are provided on a bilateral agreement with educational institutions, or any other scholarship which might be provided or sponsored by Leiden University in the near future.
10. The student should notify the Faculty's selection committee, when another scholarship of Leiden University has been awarded and which scholarship has been accepted. Contact: scholarships@science.leidenuniv.nl
11. The Faculty's selection committee will be free in deciding how many LSC scholarships will be awarded.
12. The student must comply with Dutch visa regulations. The Faculty's selection committee should be notified a.s.a.p. of any change in nationality and/or type of residence permit throughout the study period.
13. If the student terminates the study prematurely, any requests for reimbursement on tuition fees will be made to Leiden University and analogues to the "Regeling inschrijving, college- en examengeld" for the applicable academic year. The student should submit the de-registration form to Leiden University. If applicable, the student will subsequently receive a reimbursement of the tuition fee less the scholarship on a pro rata basis.