

List of potential supervisors for the RMA/RMSc thesis

RMA Applicants are asked to choose a supervisor with whom you will have the RMA interview. If admitted, you will also set up your personal study plan with this supervisor at the start of the programme. The supervisor will coach you throughout the programme and the choice of this supervisor also defines as to whether you will obtain a RMA or a RMSc degree.

The list below is cf. the list of RMA/RMSc thesis supervisors appointed by the Board of Examiners for the current academic year 2021-2022 as published on their website.

	Full professors:	Expertise
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. P.M.M.G. Akkermans	Near Eastern Archaeology, with an emphasis on Neolithisation
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof Dr. A. N. Brysbaert	(RMSc) Ancient technology, crafts and materials, related to monumental architecture and human ecology in Bronze Age Greece and the East Mediterranean.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. R. T.J. Cappers	Archaeobotany, with emphasis on the spread of agriculture and trade in the Near East
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. R.H.A. Corbey	Philosophy of Science and Anthropology: Human cognition, sociality and cultural behaviour in an evolutionary perspective
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof.dr.ing. D.J. de Vries	Origin and application of historical building materials and constructions, with emphasis on traditional European architecture
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. P.A.I.H. Degryse	(RMSc) Archaeometry, focused on the exploitation and use in ancient times of industrial minerals and ores.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. D.R. Fontijn	Archaeology of early Europe, with special attention to the Bronze Age and (early) Iron Age
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. C.L. Hofman	Archaeology of the Americas, with emphasis on the deep history of the Caribbean and adjacent areas, settlement archaeology, material culture studies, and community engagement
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. J.C.A. Kolen	Landscape Archaeology and Cultural Heritage from a Heritage Management perspective
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. M.A. Soressi	(RMA/ RMSc, depending on topic) Hominin Diversity Archaeology, with emphasis on the Middle Palaeolithic, the Early Upper Palaeolithic, and application of archaeological sciences to Palaeolithic archaeology.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof.dr. P.J. ter Keurs	Museums, Collections and Society, with emphasis on critical museums studies and the study of material culture.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. A.L. van Gijn	(RMSc) Archaeological Material Culture and Artefact Studies, with emphasis on prehistoric technology, microwear analysis, experimental archaeology and the reconstruction of the cultural biography of objects, in the context of the Vlaardingen culture, wetlands and agriculture in the coastal area of the Netherlands.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. M.J. Versluys	Classical and Mediterranean Archaeology, with emphasis on the cultural dynamics of the Hellenistic-Roman world
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof. J.A.C. Vroom	Medieval and Early Modern Eurasia, specializing in the material culture of the 7 th to 19 th centuries
<input type="checkbox"/>	Prof.dr. J.K. Zangenberg	Ancient Judaism and Early Christianity, focused on the place of ancient Jewish communities in Greco-Roman context

	Associate professors:	Expertise
<input type="checkbox"/>	Dr. M. De Campos Francozo	Museology, with emphasis on museum collections, history of collections and provenance studies, specially but not exclusively focused on Latin America.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Dr. M. van den Dries	Archaeological heritage management, including public archaeology, governance and legislation
<input type="checkbox"/>	Dr. B.S. Düring	Near Eastern Archaeology, with emphasis on the emergence of social complexity and the archaeology of imperialism
<input type="checkbox"/>	Dr. M.H. Field	(RMSc) Archaeobotany, with emphasis on the Mid- to Late Pleistocene in Europe and putting archaeology into a stratigraphical and palaeoenvironmental context.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Dr. A. Geurds	Archaeology of the Isthmo-Colombian Area & Mesoamerica, focusing on landscape, identity and monumentality. History and theory of archaeology, aspects of Contemporary Archaeology, as well as collaborative archaeology in the Americas.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Dr. K. Lambers	(RMSc) Digital and computational archaeology, with emphasis on surveying, 3D recording, remote sensing, modelling, spatial analysis, and digital image analysis.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Dr A. Verpoorte	Palaeolithic of Europe, with emphasis on the first modern humans in Europe, Neanderthal behavioural ecology and evolutionary approaches to archaeology.