Register van Vroegmodernisten aan de Universiteit Leiden

Register of Early Modernists at Leiden University

2018

Verdeeld over verschillende instituten en faculteiten werken er in Leiden veel wetenschappers (historici, literatuurwetenschappers, classici, kunsthistorici, filosofen, juristen, politicologen, theologen, archeologen) aan onderzoek over de vroegmoderne tijd: ruwweg de periode 1450-1750. Tussen de instituten is er vaak weinig onderlinge samenwerking. Helaas is de institutionele scheiding tussen Leidse vroegmodernisten vaak onbewust een reden om niet met elkaar samen te werken. En dat terwijl onderzoek door interdisciplinaire samenwerking verrijkt zou kunnen worden.

Dit register beoogt meer samenwerking tot stand te brengen tussen de vroegmodernisten aan deze universiteit. Een inschrijving verplicht deelnemers tot niets, maar door op de lijst te staan plaatsen wetenschappers hun onderzoek op de kaart voor mensen binnen en buiten hun discipline, en binnen en buiten de universiteit. Wilt u ook op de lijst staan, of uw gegevens wijzigen? Stuur uw gegevens dan op naar Sophie Rose, a.s.rose@hum.leidenuniv.nl.

Scholars across the institutes and faculties of Leiden University (historians, literary scholars, classicists, art historians, philosophers, lawyers, political scientists, theologians and archaeologists) engage in research on the early modern period: roughly the period 1450-1750. There is, however, little communication and collaboration between these academics. Unfortunately, the institutional separation seems to get in the way of interdisciplinary collaboration.

This register aims to facilitate collaboration between early modern researchers at Leiden University. An entry in the register does not commit scholars to anything, but it does make their research accessible for scholars within and outside their discipline. Do you also wish to be on the list, or would you like to modify your entry? Please send an email to Sophie Rose, a.s.rose@hum.leidenuniv.nl.
