

Jonathan Silk

The History of the Study of Buddhism in Leiden University

Buddhism has long been studied in Leiden University, a history reflected both in teaching and in publications. This presentation offers a very brief overview of this long history, with particular attention paid to the Chair in the study of Buddhism initiated by Jan Willem de Jong, and currently held by the speaker.