

LUCDH NEWSLETTER & EVENTS

20 September 2021

□ LUCDH lunchtime speaker series

Tuesday 12 October, 12:00 – 13:00 (CET)

“Three Ethical Perspectives on the Digital World” with Susanna Lindberg in P.J. Veth 1.07 - Digital Lab (or Online via Kaltura)

Join us for the first LUCDH lunchtime talk this semester presented by Professor Susanna Lindberg in the newly created Digital Lab.

In recent publications, Prof. Susanna Lindberg has worked on the impact of technics and especially of digital technologies on human existence, sometimes referring to specific concrete technologies and sometimes working on an abstract philosophical level. Read more on the ethics topics to be discussed here.

Email: lucdh@hum.leidenuniv.nl to register. We very much hope that you can join us in the brand new Digital Lab in P.J. Veth 1.07. However, we will also be live-streaming on Kaltura, so please let us know if you will be attending in person or online (Kaltura Live Room login details will then be emailed to you).

□ Humanities Digital Lab – P.J. Veth 1.07 – Open Day!

Friday 29 October, 13:30 – 17:00 (P.J. Veth); 17:00 (Faculty Club)

Save the date in your agenda for an afternoon of activities to celebrate the opening of the new Humanities Digital Lab in the beautiful P.J. Veth building.

Further program and registration details to follow soon (website/Oct newsletter), and will include walk-in workshops and demo's, a panel discussion on critical topics in the digital world, and a mini-tour of the labs' tools and research & teaching potential. To close the afternoon, we invite participants for drinks at the Faculty Club to celebrate the creation of the Digital Lab.

□ Digital Humanities Minor

Despite the challenges of the sudden switch to hybrid teaching last year, the Digital Humanities minor was again very successful. The DH Minor 2021-2022 has attracted a full complement of enthusiastic students keen to dive into the digital world. We wish the new cohort of students all the best with their studies.

□ Digitisation: six new electives that prepare students with digital skills.

‘Jelena Prokic, university lecturer and researcher at the Leiden University Centre for Digital Humanities, will be preparing students for the challenges and opportunities of the digital world. In September, six modules will start on subjects such as statistics and digitally searching through texts. Read the full interview from Prokic here.

Taught elective courses this semester are: Digital Media, Culture, and Society; Statistics for the Humanities (Statistics I); Introduction to Experimental Research for the Humanities. In the second semester it is possible to take: Digital Text and Data Analysis; Digital Data Analysis (Statistics II); Visual Storytelling for the Humanities. Read more about the six electives here.

...The next newsletter will include updates on: Small Grant applications 2021-2022 (or check the website in October); The Teach the Teacher’s workshop in digital skills will run again next year with tentative dates 24 – 28 January 2022 including, on the Friday afternoon, talks from this year’s successful SG applicants presenting their exciting DH pilot projects; and further updates on using the Digital Lab.

---

Please email Alison Carter at lucdh@hum.leidenuniv.nl for further info on BA/MA DH thesis supervision or DH research projects/questions; suggestions for DH workshops; promotion of your DH event; or to be removed from our mailing list.