	By Curriculum	Or: By Work experience	Or: By Extracurricular
Crisis and Security related knowledge	At least 20 ECTS of the course curriculum at a research university is related to crisis or security knowledge. Examples are: war studies, conflict theories, organizational crises, criminology, security studies, diplomacy, cybersecurity, terrorism studies, and intelligence studies. If the name of the course does not clearly state this relationship (e.g.: international politics), course descriptions or syllabi can be used to show a link. Writing samples can also be used to showcase relevant knowledge.	High level political function or higher management in a public/private/civil society organization. Either the goals of the organization or the tasks related to the function should be related to crisis or security matters.	If the course curriculum at the research university is at least 10 ECTS related to crisis or security knowledge, OR if 30 ECTS of the course curriculum at a university of applied sciences is related to these topics, online courses can be used to bridge the deficiencies. Examples are: - Coursera course "Terrorism and Counterterrorism" - Coursera Course "Risk in Modern Society" - Coursera course "Security and Safety Challenges in a Globalized World" Certificates must be obtained for these courses
Governance knowledge	At least 20 ECTS of the course curriculum at a research university is related to governance knowledge. Examples are: (public) management, organizational management, network management, and (international) politics. If the name of the course does not clearly state this relationship, course descriptions or syllabi can be used to show a link. Writing samples can also be used to showcase relevant knowledge.	High level political function or higher management in a public or civil society organization.	If the course curriculum at the research university is at least 10 ECTS related to governance knowledge, OR if 20 ECTS of the course curriculum at a university of applied sciences is related to the topic, online courses can be used to bridge the deficiencies. Examples are: - Coursera course "Organizational analysis" - Coursera course "The Changing Global Order" - Coursera course "Political Economy of Institutions and Development " Certificates must be obtained for these courses

| Empirical Research skills in Social Sciences | At least 15 ECTS of the course curriculum at a research university is related to empirical research skills in social sciences. Examples are: bachelor thesis, methods of social science research, qualitative analysis, and quantitative analysis. If the name of the course does not clearly state this relationship, course syllabi can be used to show a link.

Writing samples can also be used to showcase relevant knowledge. | Research papers written in the course of professional activities. Please provide samples. | If the course curriculum at the research university is at least 5 ECTS related to research skills in social sciences, OR if the course curriculum at the research university is at least 15 ECTS related to skills in non-social science research, OR if 15 ECTS of the course curriculum at a university of applied sciences is related to research skills in social sciences, online courses can be used to bridge the deficiencies.

Examples are:
- Coursera course "Quantitative methods"
- Coursera Course "Qualitative Research Methods"

Certificates must be obtained for these courses |