

Major: Global Public Health, 2020-2021
400-level	Capstone thesis
300-level	Health Promotion and Disease Prevention Maternal and Child Health	Health and Development: HIV/AIDS in Africa Aging and Society	Ethics, Health and Society: Emerging Responsibilities	Health and Environment	Applied Developmental Psychopathology Cognitive Psychology Mental Health & Illness
Methodology courses 200-level / 300-level	Advanced Quantitative Research Methods (300) Advanced Geographical Information Systems (300) Quantitative Research Methods (compulsory) Research Design GPH (compulsory) Qualitative Research Methods Geographical Information Systems
200-level	Nutrition and Health Non-Communicable Diseases Infectious Diseases	Medical Anthropology	Global Health Policy	Environmental Pollution	Psychology of Stress and Health
Elective courses 100-level not part of any track	Biology Chemistry NOTE: these are required courses for students without a background in biology or chemistry who want to take the Biomedical Sciences or Health & Environment tracks. Other students may enroll in these courses as electives within the Major. Calculus
100-level	Introduction to Epidemiology (compulsory) Social Determinants of Health (compulsory) Health Systems Management (compulsory)			Health, Society and History	Introduction to Psychology
Tracks	Biomedical Sciences	Health and Development	Health Policy and Politics	Health and Environment	Psychology
	Major tracks			Co-convened tracks (shared with other Majors)	