OVERVIEW OF MAJOR

The Human Diversity major draws on the insights of the humanities and social sciences in order to help students understand and address the challenges of living together in socially diverse communities. Students are encouraged to think critically about the ways humans form identities and groups and provides valuable training in intercultural analysis and communication. This major suits those who cherish a deep fascination for people, and the entirety of their range of forms and flavors, and who believe in the power of circumstances.

MAJOR TRACKS:

- Ecosystem Health
- Earth System Science
- Energy and Natural Resources

What can the future hold?

Graduates of Human Diversity may go on to work in:

- Academia
- Education
- Non-governmental sector
- Government
- Cultural Heritage Programmes
- Media/ Journalism

Some examples of what alumni have done include:

- MA in Anthropology—University of Oxford
- MA European History—King’s College
- Policy and Performance Lead, focus on immigration, modern slavery, and counter-extremism—UK Cabinet

This major might be for you if you question things like....

- How have grassroots social movements arisen in different times and places?
- How have globalization and technology changed the way people organize and develop group identities?
- How have humans distinguished between “self” and “other”? worked to integrate newcomers?

“I see HD as an important part of a lot of different ways of thinking about the world’s challenges and this is why I chose it as a major. There are a lot of curious, critical and kind people here and conversations really get moving in class.

“What is culture?” was my favourite course because it drew on all kinds of texts and philosophies to talk about the weird cultural conventions and myths we live under.”

Greg Frey
UK
Class of 2017
The Major Overview below will help you understand how the “track” system works at LUC The Hague, and how by choosing specific tracks you will gain knowledge and expertise in different areas. Though the Liberal Arts and Sciences curriculum will always allow you to have space for electives, the majors and tracks will enable you to have structure within your major.

The Major Overview below will help you understand how the “track” system works at LUC The Hague, and how by choosing specific tracks you will gain knowledge and expertise in different areas. Though the Liberal Arts and Sciences curriculum will always allow you to have space for electives, the majors and tracks will enable you to have structure within your major.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>300-level</th>
<th>200-level</th>
<th>100-level</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Asia in Global History: From Colonialism to the Post-Cold War Era</td>
<td>Historical Approaches to Diversity: Racism in Historical Perspective</td>
<td>Birth of the Modern World</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>History &amp; Politics of Global Migration</td>
<td>Urban Studies</td>
<td>Core track 1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Art &amp; Diversity II: Political Iconology (1600-1800)</td>
<td>Art &amp; Diversity I: Contemporary Art</td>
<td>Time &amp; Place</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Postcolonial Representations</td>
<td>Cultural Translation</td>
<td>Core track 2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Politics of Cultural Memory</td>
<td>Paradoxes of Citizenship</td>
<td>Cultural Expression</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Case-studies in Diversity: Theories in Practice</td>
<td>Approaches to Diversity: Anthropology</td>
<td>Core track 3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Religion &amp; Identity</td>
<td>Language &amp; Diversity</td>
<td>Sociolinguistics</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Languages &amp; Cultures in Contact</td>
<td>Gender, Media and Conflict</td>
<td>Introduction to Gender Studies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feminist Philosophy</td>
<td>Gender &amp; Development</td>
<td>Co-convener: Gender Studies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vulnerability, Gender and the Ethics of Care</td>
<td>Anthropology of Gender &amp; Sexuality</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For more detailed information visit the e-prospectus