Transport from Leiden Central Station

By foot From Leiden Central Station, take the main exit towards the Centre. Cross the station square and keep to the right side of the road. Take the Stationsweg and then the Steenstraat and continue across the Blauwpoort bridge. On leaving the bridge, turn right and take the Prinsessekade, which will continue into the Korte Rapenburg. Cross the street and you are on the Rapenburg.

You will find the Academy Building on your right hand-side.

You will find the Kamerlingh Onnes Gebouw a little further, walk towards bridge and across, walk further to the right ('even house numbers' of the Rapenburg), and about 200 meters you will find the Kamerlingh Onnes Building (Steenschuur 25).

Map and route description <https://goo.gl/maps/uJFbRcUnxLG2>

By taxi Taxis are located in front of the train station. The cost from Leiden Central Station is approximately €15.

By bus Buses stop in front of the train station. You need a bus that travels along the Breestraat. You could take: Bus number 2 (direction Leiderdorp Oranjewijk); Bus number 4 (direction Zuid West); Bus number 45 (direction Den Haag); Bus number 182 (direction Alphen aan den Rijn); Bus number 187 (direction Gouda) or Bus number 400 (direction Zoetermeer)

Ask the driver to let you know when you are at the bus stop in the Breestraat. Walk along the Breestraat and turn right into the Pieterskerkchoorsteeg. Follow this street until you get to the Pieterskerk (church) and the Pieterskerkhof. Cross this square towards the Kloksteeg and at the end of the Kloksteeg you will arrive at the Rapenburg.

You will find the Academy Building across the street (via bridge).

Visit Leiden

Museums

Leiden is a spectacular, historic city with many interesting and famous museums. Three of the Netherlands national museums are located in Leiden. These national museums include the National Museum of Antiquities, the National Museum of Ethnology and the Dutch National Museum of the History of Science and Medicine. Other museums in Leiden include the 'Naturalis', one of the largest natural history museums in the world, and the municipal museum of 'De Lakenhal'.

Botanical Gardens

One of the Europe's first botanic gardens, now part of the University of Leiden. It is small and beautifully kept. There is also a Japanese garden named after the scientist Von Siebold who carried out botanical research in Japan during the 19th century.

There is also a systematic garden named after the Swedish botanist Carl Linnaeus. The garden is the most beautiful in the spring with huge, very, very old wisterias blooming. The cafe serves a great hot apple drink and has many delicious baked goods.

Shopping

Leiden has beautiful walkways and great variety of shops side by side to browse through, including retail stores, restaurants, cafes, ice cream shops, souvenir shops, and more. Stores are open throughout the day and the specialty shops in small lanes and alleyways in the historic center create a fun and unique shopping experience. Good, friendly service, attention to quality, and many special offers!

The Local Market

The Leiden market offers a different kind of shopping: here you will find exotic spices, clothing, vegetables, fruit, fish and flowers. Every Wednesday and Saturday

Pieterskerk (church)

The newly restored Pieterskerk in Leiden is an amazing building with a fascinating history. It is one of the oldest and largest monuments in the town. It serves now as a museum and monument, hosting a number of art treasures and memorials to those buried at the church. The Pieterskerk is a historic meeting place available for all your events, a place that you and your guests will always remember.
