Copyright and Open Access

PhD Session Law Faculty by Leiden University Libraries 2020 - 2021

Date: Thursday 8th of October 2020
Time: 14.00 – 16.00
Location: Online
Instructors: Erna Sattler, LLM (Copyright) and Saskia Woutersen, LLM (Open Access)
Language: English
Register: register – deadline for registration Tuesday 6 October 12 hrs

Copyright and Open Access
What is copyright? How will it affect you as a PhD student and as a scholar, researcher, lecturer and author? What are the pitfalls when you start publishing? What are your legal (open access) obligations towards Leiden University when graduating and depositing your thesis in the Leiden University Library? What is open access? What is the policy at Leiden University? How can you publish open access? What are the options to publish open access with the publisher without any costs for the author? Why should you want to publish open access?

The session will enable you to gain insight in the what, where and how of Copyright and Open Access so you will be able to avoid pitfalls and make full use of your rights as an author and scholar.

Some topics that will be covered are:
- plagiarism, what is it and how to avoid it;
- publishing your article: watch out for pitfalls in the contract with your publisher;
- depositing your thesis in the University Repository (requirement for graduating): how to avoid problems;
- copyright and you as a teacher/lecturer (optional)
- copyright and your students (optional)
- open access policy at Leiden University
- funder requirements
- open access agreements with the publishers
- institutional repository at Leiden University
- enlarging the international visibility of your work