* Nationals of Australia, Canada and New Zealand may alternatively apply for a residence permit via a Working Holiday Programme/Scheme. If you are eligible, Leiden University will send you an email after admission with information on how to apply.

 Short stay visas are only required by nationals of certain countries. Check on the immigration department website (IND) whether this applies to you. If you need a short-stay visa, you must request this yourself from your local Dutch consulate.

Am I eligible to apply for a visa/residence permit?
Dutch student visas/residence permits must be requested by the host university. Students may not apply directly to the immigration department. You can ask Leiden University to apply for your student visa/residence permit once you have:

- been admitted to courses amounting to at least 15 ECs per semester
- met your conditions of admission
- Chinese students: been granted a Nuffic certificate

What is the deadline and how long does it take?
The deadline for submitting your visa and/or residence permit application to Leiden University is:

- 1 June: programmes starting in September (extended deadline for 2020)
- 1 December: programmes starting in February

Upon receipt, the university will check all documents are in order then forward your application to the Dutch immigration department (IND). You will then have to wait approximately 2 to 4 weeks for the IND to approve your request. If you require a visa, allow an additional 2 weeks for arranging your visa appointment at the consulate.
How do I apply for a visa/residence permit?
Follow the steps below to apply for your visa/residence permit:

1. Carefully read Appendix I: Obligations for residence permit holders before starting your visa/residence permit application.

2. Start preparing the required items for your visa/residence permit application well in advance.

3. Shortly after admission you will receive an email instructing you to start your visa/residence permit application.

4. Submit the required information and documents, as described below, by email to exchange@sea.leidenuniv.nl

5. Pay the visa/residence permit fee of €174 (2020)*
   - Online via Paylogic
   - or by bank transfer - see Appendix II: Bank transfers

6. After receiving your application and fee, Leiden University will request a visa/residence permit for you from the Dutch immigration department (IND).

*Fee set by the Dutch immigration department (IND) and subject to annual change. Nationals of Israel and San Marino are exempted from the visa/residence permit fee in accordance with the Benelux agreement.

Required information and documents
Submit the following by email to exchange@sea.leidenuniv.nl:

- Copy of your valid passport (all pages with personal data, visas or entry/exit stamps)

- Information on where you wish to collect your entry visa (if applicable)
  You may only collect your visa in a country where you legally reside. If there isn’t a Dutch embassy that can issue visas in your country, you may have to collect it elsewhere. See www.netherlandsandyou.nl. You may not change your collection location after submitting your visa request.

- Signed Antecedents Certificate (under 2.2, leave the 'V-number' section blank)

- Copy of other EU residence permits (if applicable)

- Proof of sufficient funds for tuition fee and living expenses (see section below)
Proof of sufficient funds for tuition fee and living expenses

For tuition fee (if applicable – only for non-exchange students)
Submit the following two items by email to exchange@sea.leidenuniv.nl:

1. A statement issued by the person/organisation paying your tuition fee, e.g. you, a parent, a scholarship provider or an employer. This statement must confirm that you, or the third party in question, is willing and able to pay.
2. Proof that you, or the third party in question, has the means to pay the tuition fee, i.e. a bank statement or scholarship letter. Your statement or letter must meet all the requirements listed under ‘Criteria for bank statements/scholarship letters’.

For living expenses

How much is sufficient?
You must demonstrate that you have sufficient funds for the upcoming 12 months of studies (or for the duration of your studies if less than 12 months).
The official amount, as determined by the Dutch Ministry of Justice, is:

- Student: €900 per month / €10,800 for one year (2020)*
- Student plus partner and/or children: €1,465.07 per month (2019)*

*Subject to annual change

There are three ways of demonstrating that you have sufficient funds for living expenses. Select one of the following methods:

a. Transfer of funds to Leiden University (quickest/preferred method)
Transfer sufficient funds for your living expenses to Leiden University. See instructions in Appendix II: Bank transfers. After you have done so:
   o Submit a copy of the bank transfer receipt to exchange@sea.leidenuniv.nl
   o After arrival, request a refund of funds into your Dutch bank account

b. Bank statement in your own name
Submit a copy of a bank statement in your own name to exchange@sea.leidenuniv.nl. Your statement must show sufficient funds and meet all the requirements listed under ‘Criteria for bank statements/scholarship letters’. Note that if someone else is sponsoring you, they must transfer the funds into your account.

c. Scholarship letter
Submit a copy of a scholarship letter to exchange@sea.leidenuniv.nl. Your letter must show sufficient funds and meet all the requirements listed under ‘Criteria for bank statements/scholarship letters’.

Leiden University Admissions Office – April 2020
Criteria for bank statements/scholarship letters

Your bank statement must meet all the following criteria:

- On letterhead paper and bearing an official stamp or the signature of a bank representative
- In English, Dutch, French or German
- States the account holder, number, balance and currency type
- Funds are readily available, i.e. not shares, investments or trust funds
- Less than three months old, with the date of issue clearly stated
- States the bank's address, phone number and a contact person (preferably one who speaks English)
- Chinese ‘certificates of deposit’ cannot be accepted

Your scholarship letter must meet all the following criteria:

- Issued by a government ministry or organisation, or an accredited scholarship provider
- On letterhead paper
- States the name, address and telephone number of the scholarship provider
- In English, Dutch, French or German
- States your full name and date of birth
- States the amount of money you will receive per month, or the total amount of the scholarship - plus currency type
- States the exact start and end date of the scholarship (day/month/year)
- If the scholarship amount is not sufficient: demonstrate you have sufficient funds to make up the shortfall, either by transferring funds to Leiden University's bank account and submitting a copy of the bank transfer receipt (see Appendix II Bank transfers to Leiden University), or by submitting an additional bank statement (see criteria for bank statements above).

If your bank statement or scholarship letter does not meet all requirements, you will be asked to submit a new one. As this can be very time consuming, we advise students to demonstrate sufficient funds by way of bank transfer if at all possible. Note that in certain circumstances, you may be asked to send a hardcopy of your bank statement or scholarship letter by post at a later date.
What happens after I submit my application?
Leiden University will let you know by email once your visa/residence permit has been approved. Keep a copy of your visa/residence permit approval email, as you will need this for Dutch town hall registration appointment after arrival.

Important note: Do not enter the Netherlands on a tourist or short-stay visa whilst awaiting approval of your visa, as this can have negative consequences on your application.

Next steps: students requiring a visa
After your request has been approved, make an appointment to collect your visa at the Dutch consulate/embassy as follows:
- Go to the Netherlands and you - Long-stay visa page
- Enter your country or region
- Scroll down to ‘Long-stay visa for residents of this country or region’
- Click on the link to ‘make an appointment’ via the online system

The consulate/embassy will let you know exactly which documents you must bring to your appointment.

Next steps: student requiring a residence permit only
After your request has been approved, you must sign up for a post-arrival biometric data appointment. During this appointment, the Dutch immigrations department (IND) will record your photo and fingerprints. Your residence permit cannot be issued until your biometric data has been recorded, so make an appointment as soon as you can via the biometric data appointment page.

Formalities after arrival
After arrival, make sure to take care of the following formalities:

Collecting your residence permit

Students with a visa
Shortly after arrival in the Netherlands you will receive an email inviting you to collect your residence permit.

Students not requiring a visa
Two to four weeks after attending your biometric data appointment in the Netherlands, you will be invited to collect your residence permit.
Town hall registration
As a residence permit holder, you must register at a Dutch address with your local town hall as soon as possible after arrival and at least within one month. If you fail to do so, the Dutch immigration department will cancel your residence permit.

You are responsible for scheduling your own town hall appointment! Make an appointment as soon as you can via our town hall registration webpage.

The documents needed for your appointment vary depending on the municipality in which you will live. Make sure to read the section on ‘what to bring to your appointment’ on the town hall registration webpage well before you leave for the Netherlands. Note that you will be asked to show official proof of your Dutch address, therefore it is essential that you arrange housing well in advance.

TB test
Nationals of some non-EU countries must undergo a TB test after arrival in the Netherlands. Refer to this list of nationalities to check if this applies to you. You will receive details of your appointment by email shortly after arrival.

Dutch Bank account
You are highly advised to open a Dutch bank account after arrival. This is particularly important if you have transferred funds to Leiden University for your visa/residence permit application, or have been awarded a scholarship by Leiden University. These funds will be transferred to your Dutch bank account. You can request a Dutch bank account by following the instructions on our Dutch bank account page.

Return of funds for living expenses
If you transferred funds for living expenses to Leiden University as part of your visa/residence permit application, submit this refund form after arrival to notify us of your Dutch bank account details and request that the funds be returned to you.

Any questions?
If you have any questions about your student visa and/or residence permit, please contact Leiden University using the Visa contact form.

After arrival, you are welcome to drop by during the visa team’s weekly consultation hours with any questions you might have. For times and locations, see the visa team’s contact information on the visa and residence permit page.
Appendix I: Obligations for residence permit holders

As a student residence permit holder you must meet a number of obligations during your stay. Familiarise yourself with these obligations before submitting your visa/residence permit application:

- Town hall registration
  You must register at a Dutch address with your local town hall soon after arrival, and notify the municipal authorities of any address changes during your stay.

- Insurance
  You are obliged to have sufficient health insurance coverage during your entire stay. The type of policy you need depends on the coverage you require and whether you will work or do a paid internship alongside your studies. Read more on the health insurance page.

- TB test
  Nationals of some non-EU countries are obliged to undergo a TB test after arrival. Refer to this list of nationalities to check if this applies to you. You will receive details of your appointment by email shortly after arrival.

- Valid residence permit at all times
  Your student residence permit will be issued for the duration of your study programme plus 3 months. You are obliged to leave the country before your permit expires, unless you have arranged residency on other grounds. If you start a new programme or need more time to complete your studies, you must extend your residence permit in good time.

- Sufficient funds
  You must have sufficient funds at your disposal at all times. You will be asked to demonstrate sufficient funds both for your initial visa/residence permit application, and before each subsequent year of study.

Leiden University is obliged to notify the IND if you have insufficient funds, which may result in the cancellation of your permit. This is in accordance with the Code of Conduct governing International Students in Higher Education.

Disclaimer

Leiden University retains the right to refuse to apply for a student visa/residence permit if there are significant concerns about the applicant's intended purpose of stay in the Netherlands. The Dutch immigration authority may impose additional requirements for visa/residence permit applications, which may result in a longer processing time. Leiden University cannot be held responsible for delays of this nature.
