

Short Bios

Dr Michelle Frazão Muzitano

Professora Associada

Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ)

Laboratório de Produtos Bioativos - Farmácia

Degree in Pharmacy from the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ), Ph.D. in Natural Products Chemistry from the Institute of Research on Natural Products - UFRJ and from Università Degli Studi di Firenze - Italy and Post-Doctorate from the Biophysics Institute Carlos Chagas Filho (UFRJ). Currently, she is an Associate Professor of Pharmacognosy at UFRJ, Campus Macaé, and coordinator of the Bioactive Products Laboratory. She is a permanent professor at the Postgraduate Program on Pharmaceutical Sciences (UFRJ, Campus Fundão) and on Bioactive Products and Biosciences (UFRJ, Campus Macaé), from which served as coordinator for 2017-2019, and is currently vice-coordinator. She participated in the implementation of the Natural Products Group at Campus UFRJ Macaé and of the Postgraduate Program in Bioactive Products and Biosciences. Has experience in Pharmacognosy and Natural Products, acting on the following subjects: Restinga medicinal plants, Research of new drugs and phytomedicines, Tuberculosis (TB) and drug-resistant TB treatment, and Immunopharmacology.